

PURVEYORS OF PURE HONKY TONK IN AN IMPURE WORLD.

Formed in Las Vegas in 2013, The Rhyolite Sound bring their own brand of desert honky tonk to the stage. Blending elements of Outlaw, Rockabilly, Honky Tonk, Blues, and Rock N Roll, they are expanding the boundaries of conventional country music. Recently nominated for an Ameripolitan Music Award in the Honky Tonk Group category, and named “Best in the City” by NPR’s Desert Companion Magazine their aim is to attract the hardest core traditionalist as well as the most casual country music fan. Whether it’s being a featured artist at a music festival (Life Is Beautiful, Tumbleweed), or playing a local honky-tonk or biker bar, they bring a live show that is raucous and rowdy that’s sure to keep their audiences attention. Weaving melodies and harmonies alongside madness and mayhem, The Rhyolite Sound are purveyors of pure honky tonk in an impure world.
